

Hunter Appointments

Except for a stallion (which is never allowed) you may hunt any horse you can control. Your enjoyment of the hunt as well as others' safety is very dependent on how manageable your mount is. If you cannot control a horse at home or in the arena, you will not be able to control him on a run. An animal being introduced to the hunt field for the first few times should have a green ribbon tied to his tail. Horses that kick must have a red ribbon. If your horse is ill-mannered or unmanageable, you will be asked to drop back to the third field or take the animal back to your trailer.

Tack should be in good repair and checked thoroughly for weaknesses before each hunt. Tack should be plain with no colored or shiny trim and be clean. Heavy leather in shades of brown or black is appropriate for all pieces of tack. A plain white saddle pad is correct. Indian blankets or colorful pads are not appropriate. Your hunter must be bitted adequately for you to have control. A recommended guide for untried hunters is to bit the animal one step stronger than he normally would be bitted, since many horses are more difficult to manage in the hunt field and are not as well-mannered as usual. Buckles should not be used to attach cheek pieces and reins to the bit.

Hunt saddles should be comfortable and fit both rider and horse well. A flat or English saddle is preferable (with deep forward seat), but not required. Stirrups should be well-fitted to the rider with openings large enough so the boot cannot be wedged in but small enough to prevent the boot from slipping all the way through. Safety catches should be left open. Break-away or safety stirrups are recommended for young riders.

Tradition and Fun

Juan Tomas Hounds is rich in tradition but also is based upon making sure guests and members enjoy themselves.

Guests are welcome, along with newer members, to take their time to acquire their hunter and personal appointments (tack and clothing, etc.) Many new members even start riding in Western saddles.

Most of all, we want people to enjoy the beautiful surroundings, the hunting, and the hounds.

NEW MEXICO EQUINE LIABILITY ACT WARNING

ALL activities involving HORSES, donkeys, mules or ponies have inherent risks for participants.

New Mexico State law protects operators, owners, trainers, promoters and others from liability for injuries, which are the result of an equine animal's behavior.

Coming Home from a Hunt

HUNTING WITH

IN NEW MEXICO

Come Out and Join Us!

Every Thursday and Sunday morning during the months of October through March, the members of Juan Tomás Hounds meet together in the revelry of the beautiful Southwest to enjoy the fellowship of the members, the faithful footsteps of their horses, and the mastery of the Huntsman and his hounds.

Juan Tomas Hounds (JTH) is an organization whose purpose is to provide good sport in the hunting field for its members.

Membership is an opportunity for people to share their interests in hounds, hunting, and horses and to enjoy related social activities sponsored by JTH.

We are fortunate to have a wonderful group of people in Juan Tomas Hounds.

We encourage guests to join us for a hunt to see if they are interested in membership. Our memberships range from purely social to full family riding. We are one of the most inexpensive hunts to join in the United States.

Hunting is a sport to be enjoyed by all ages from Juniors to Seniors. We have multiple fields for the beginning rider at a slow pace to the advanced rider that loves jumps.

Hunting with Juan Tomas

The Juan Tomas Hunt Country consists of areas within a hundred mile radius of Albuquerque. Our hunt country is as varied as New Mexico, from desert to mountains. We select hunt sites within a million acre area, and are fortunate in having permission from landowners to hunt on ranches around Albuquerque and Santa Fe. We occasionally take trips to joint meets. We have built white pipe jumps over wire fences as well as rock and wooden jumps on some ranches; however, for those riders that do not jump, there are always paths around. We chase coyote, an animal that runs faster than either the red or gray fox.

The Kennels for the Hounds

Cubbing begins our hunt season in late September. This training and exercise period introduces young hounds to the working pack and provides a refresher course for older hounds after a summer layoff. Riders are urged to condition their horses on their own in preparation for the hunt season. A traditional blessing of the hounds takes place during opening hunt and from then until Closing Hunt in March, the hunt meets twice a week on Sundays and Thursdays.

Each hunt is followed by an outdoor tailgate breakfast hosted by a group of members that take turns each week as part of their club obligation.

The season is punctuated by social events including a “get-acquainted” party in the fall, a New Year’s Eve hunt followed by a mid-afternoon party, and a traditional Hunt Ball. Juan Tomas also puts on special riding events.

The Huntsman with the Hounds

The present Hunt was formed by a group of sporting individuals who were interested in starting a traditional foxhunt in New Mexico. The first meeting was held in Albuquerque on Sunday, June 14, 1970. The original Hunt country was centered around the small Manzano village of Juan Tomas.

JTH has a wonderful pack of hounds that have been acquired and bred over time in cooperation with other hunts in keeping with a planned breeding program aimed at developing a pack suitable for the local terrain and climate. A minimum of 12 couple is required by the Masters of Foxhounds Association of America. The Hunt was registered in 1973 and recognized in 1979 by the Masters of Foxhounds Association (MFHA).

JTH - Application for Membership – 2017 Season

The following guidelines shall govern the acceptance of new members:

- ✚ An applicant for new membership must be sponsored by two memberships in good standing.
- ✚ We are a private club and we reserve the right to refuse membership to any party.
- ✚ A new applying riding member must hunt with JTH 4 rides within a two months period before the hunt committee will vote on their application for membership. During this time, a perspective member will be evaluated by field members and masters. The general membership will have an opportunity to submit written objections to the Masters concerning the new applicant during this time.
- ✚ Non-riding Social perspective members, will be voted on by the hunt committee in 2 months. During this time, a perspective social member will be evaluated by members and masters. The general membership will have an opportunity to submit written objections to the Masters concerning the new applicant during this time.
- ✚ A non-refundable application fee of $15 shall accompany each application. Completed application forms along with the application fee and the membership dues should be returned to the membership chairperson. Upon receipt of the application and fees, the membership chairperson will provide the applicant with JTH information packet.
- ✚ The hunt committee will be informed (via email or by phone) of the new applicant before posting the applicants name at the hunt. The applicants name will be posted during the entire evaluation period so the general membership has an opportunity to have input on the new applicant.
- ✚ The evaluation period for applicants starts on Opening hunt and ends 1 1/2 months before the end of the hunting season.
- ✚ If membership is withdrawn or not approved, dues will be refunded, less a capping fee for each hunt ridden during the application period. JTH is a private club and membership applications may not be approved.
- ✚ The perspective member, or members if a family, agrees to abide by the manual and bylaws of Juan Tomas Hounds.

I understand the guidelines and new member application procedures and will abide by them.
